

A promotional poster for the Netflix limited series 'The Queen's Gambit'. The central figure is a young woman with short, wavy brown hair and a serious expression, wearing a dark blue dress with a white Peter Pan collar. She holds a light-colored chess king piece in her mouth. Above her head is a circular arrangement of various chess pieces, including kings, queens, knights, and pawns. Three green capsules are floating in the air around her. The background is dark and moody. At the bottom, a chessboard is visible with several pieces in play.
